Dear Customer:

Thank you for your inquiry into the expiration dating of PURELL® Advanced Hand Sanitizer. PURELL Advanced Hand Sanitizer is regulated by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) as an Over-the-Counter (OTC) drug product and GOJO follows FDA regulations regarding the issuance of expiration dating. Our customers can be assured of the product's safety and efficacy through the expiration date printed on the package.

The expiration date of PURELL hand sanitizer is determined through product "stability" testing, and most of our products are typically labeled with an expiration date of 3 years from the date of manufacture. The products are best if used by that date. However, based on most current stability data, many PURELL Advanced Hand Sanitizer products are safe and efficacious for an additional 2 years, extending the expiry from 3 to 5 years. If you have questions about a specific product expiry, please contact us at StabilityExpiryRequest@GOJO.COM and provide the product SKU and Lot #.

Should you have additional questions, please contact us at 330-255-6000.

Stay well,
